FIND CLEWS IN VOGEL MURDER

Bracelet and Purse Are Found Near Scene of Crime

A gold bracelet and a woman's purse, stolen from the Vogel home in Fruitvale, and evidently dropped by the murderers of aged Jacob Vogel and his wife in their flight, today furnished one of the most important clues unearthed since the police have been investigating the case.

The jewelry and purse were found in a lot on the west side of Fruitvale avenue, a short distance south of East Twenty-second street. The police, hearing of the find, which was made by neighbors, today hurried to the scene and made a searching investigation of the place.

The discovery of a portion of the missing loot shows that the thieves evidently fled down Fruitvale avenue after the murder, which bears out the theory that they made their escape by automobile.

CHIEF WITHHOLDS NEWS.
An interesting side light on the field censorship being maintained by the police as to their investigation of the murder was brought out in connection with the information given by Constable Tom Carroll of Fruitvale. Carroll met a man on the night of the murder not far from the Vogel home on Caliente street, whom he believes to be one of the thieves. The fact that Carroll met this man and obtained a description of his became known today, but when asked about it, Chief Peterson admitted that he had been in possession of the information for a week.

When Peterson and Agnew returned from their first trip to Fruitvale, they were questioned, but declared that they had obtained no information of value and there was nothing to give out.

The man seen by Carroll answers to the description of one of the suspects seen by Motorman Walsh on a Fruitvale car and believed to be one of the murderers. He was a young man, heavy set, with blue eyes and a sandy mustache. He wore a gray suit of clothes.

QUESTION OVER MONEY.
Members of the Vogel family told Carroll, according to the constable, that Mrs. Vogel may have had between $150 and $200 in the missing leather purse which is believed to have been taken from the mattress.

In the case of the Vogel estate, which is being handled in real estate, the police have not ascertained whether Vogel drew any large sum of money from the bank within the few days previous to the murder, but as they had a conference with the president of the Fruitvale Bank shortly after the murder, it is thought that he would have made known the fact if Vogel had withdrawn any large amount of money from his deposit.

Chief Peterson stated today that the Vogel estate would reach a value of $200,000 in real estate, which is a large sum in this value. He also stated that much of this value was made up of the Vogel and his family's property, and that the police are endeavoring to find a clue.

OLD GLORY TO BEDECK CITY
MAYOR URGES FLAG DISPLAY
To the People of Oakland: In order that there may be a public recognition of the opening of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition and that the people may give evidence of the importance of this event, I do hereby request that the national colors be displayed throughout the city tomorrow, Saturday, February 20, 1915.

Let the flag of our country wave from every staff in honor of the inauguration of this great Exposition and in testimony of our city's good will and support.

For the same reason I do direct that the flag shall be raised upon all municipal buildings Saturday, and that all of the municipal departments observe this day in accordance with the spirit of the occasion.

'EXPLOIT NO VISITOR' LANE

Secretary Warns California Not to Offend Guests

His Message, However, Is Kindly Spoken on Arrival

"Exposition guests must not be exploited. I must warn you. Make them feel at home and teach them to love California."

So declared Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, when returning to his native state today as official representative of the United States Government at the Exposition opening, he voiced the advice of Woodrow Wilson, chief executive of the nation, to the people of the West. Secretary Lane arrived in Oakland this morning and went at once to San Francisco.

"Be of good cheer," said the noted statesman and former Californian. "The new area of prosperity is here."

"Business throughout the United States is good and each day sees a stimulus in trade. Hundreds of thousands of visitors will come to this state this year, and many of them will remain as permanent citizens. They will learn to love the state and this wonderful Exposition City as I love it."

"Lift up your hearts in gratitude for your many blessings—for the good things that are so plentiful in the empire of California."

The secretary was in a jolly mood when he stepped from the Overland at the Oakland mole, and was greeted by a committee of Exposition, Federal and city officials. He shook hands right and left, smiled at the big crowd which gathered about, chatted with friends and said he was in the best of health.

WELCOMED HOME.
Those who composed the reception committee consisted of Rudolph Tausig, Postmaster Charles W. Fay and Alexander T. Vogelsang. Others who were present included William T. Sisson, Collector of the Port of San Francisco, Wardell, Ed V. Leake, customs appraiser and an old friend of Lane. Lieutenant-Commander Woodward and dozens of citizens who know him well enough to call him "Frank."

Mayor Rolph met the secretary on his arrival and extended him a cordial welcome. About the first words he uttered were congratulatory on the completion of the Exposition and a prediction concerning "the future greatness of San Francisco and California."

Supposed Incendiary Fire Follows Explosion

Explosions, which awakened a number of Hayward residents at an early hour this morning, preceded the destruction by fire of a large two-story residence on B street owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Brown.

The police believe that the report was in some way connected with the outbreak of fire and that it was caused by incendiaries. The noise, they believe, may have been the explosion of dynamite. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were not occupying the house, as they have been living with Mrs. Julia Smith, who is ill.

Joseph Silver was the first to see the blaze, which had seared the bottom floor of the house before the arrival of the fire department, which could not check the blaze. Brown had recently installed over $1000 worth of new furniture.

Several suspicious characters were noted in the vicinity of the Brown home last night, and the police are endeavoring to find a clue.

CITIES AWAIT EXPOSITION OAKLAND TO JOIN IN PARADE

FRANKLIN K. LANE, SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR AND PRESIDENT WILSON'S EXPOSITION ENVOY, WHO ARRIVED THIS MORNING.

FORECASTER FAILS TO GIVE WORD OF COMFORT

ODEER! IT MAY RAIN

Forecaster Willson, speaking of the weather, deposes: "The weather tonight and tomorrow will be unsettled. Showers are probable. There will be a southwest wind."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—With all San Francisco and Central California on uprise with anxiety and expectation, United States Weather Forecaster G. H. Willson sheathed himself in an armor of formal prediction this morning and refused to give aid and comfort to those who have demanded sunshine and clear skies tomorrow.

Only by past performances can San Francisco hope that tomorrow will be a day for parading. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday we have had some forecast. "Cloudy and unsettled weather, probably showers," but on each day there has been an absence of rain and on each day the sun has alternately vied with the clouds for pre-eminence. Not until tonight has there been rain and if we must be able to stand that tomorrow night.

"Our chances for sunshine are not good, I must confess," declared Willson today. "There is a depression in the interior of California and Nevada which causes this unsettled state. The storm of the past few days is lingering in our neighborhood and I am not sure that another storm is headed our way. Conditions are decidedly unsettled and unfavorable."

JITNEY DRIVER'S SLAYERS?

COIN AND WATCH LEFT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—The discovery in the room of Harry Thomann, the chauffeur slain in his jitney bus last night, of several plaster of paris moulds, several imperfect counterfeit quarters, and other counterfeit paraphernalia, leads the police to the theory that he was murdered by members of a counterfeit gang. It is believed that it was he who "tipped off" the secret service men the fact that a gang of counterfeiters was operating, and that he was killed as a "squealer."

Thomann was formerly a United Railroad conductor. Recently a former motorman for the company was arrested as a counterfeiter and it was believed then that he was only one of a band operating here. The finding of the moulds was the work of Deputy Public Administrator A. F. Monahan.

Possibility of Thomann being slain for the valuables he may have had on him has not been overlooked, but he still had in his pocket two gold chains, a gold watch and $2.50 in nickels, dimes and quarters.

Cabinet Officer Comes, Representing the Nation

Jewel City to Blaze With Light From Sunset Till Dawn

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—(Rumination tomorrow night of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, commencing with the parade of the morning and the festivities attending the opening of the gates to the people of the world, will begin brilliantly as soon as the sun sets in the western horizon. The program of illuminating features, which surpass anything before attempted in the history of celebrations, was announced this morning as of peculiar interest to everyone who contemplates taking part in the day's festivities.

For the first time the monster searchlight battery of 48 26-inch projector searchlights, having a candle power of 2,650,000,000 will be turned on. These lights, operated by a force of 50 men, will play about the Tower of Jewels and flash their shafts over San Francisco, Oakland and surrounding cities, proclaiming to the world that the Panama-Pacific Exposition has accomplished a feat never before attempted with electric power.

AT SUNSET HOUR.
The grand illumination will begin at 4:45 p. m., when millions of electric lights will glow over the grounds, and including the concession district, will be turned on. Even the lights in the exhibit palaces, which may be dark in future, will flash forth in order that there may not be a single dark spot from the Presidio to Van Ness avenue.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the diamond-studded Tower of Jewels, with its rows and rows of multi-colored lamps, will be illuminated. For three-quarters of an hour the assembled throng will have an opportunity of witnessing the blaze of lights on the tower, and then at 7:45 the searchlights, constituting the great triumphal masterpiece of a corps of electricians, will be brought into play.

The lighting arrangements are complete. Nothing is left to the future. The illumination tomorrow night will be that used on special occasions throughout the Fair, and may be on the nightly program, although that has not been definitely decided. Certainly, those who visit the Exposition tomorrow will see the most marvelous electric display which has ever been given anywhere at any time or under any conditions. Nothing like it has ever been conceived, and it is predicted it will be the greatest before the attempt to equal it will be made.

LAVISH EXPENDITURE

No expense in the building of the exposition has been greater than the installation of this powerful lighting plant, which will use more current than is needed for the illumination of the homes and streets of all of the cities of Northern California put together and probably with the country districts thrown in.

All other details of the great world festival are ready. An electric spark of enormous potential, jumping across the continent, will open the exposition at noon tomorrow, Pacific coast time.

In the White House at Washington the President will press a button and the aerials of the great government radio station at Arlington will snarl and splutter. The vibrations will be received an infinitesimal fraction of a second later by a commercial station on the shores of San Francisco bay, whence they will be relayed by wire to a receiving instrument on the Exposition grounds.

As soon as the signal is received the wheels will begin to turn and the fountains to play; the gates will swing open and a procession of citizens, with the mayor at their head, will march on to the grounds.

At the same time President Charles C. Moore, of the Exposition Company, will inform President Wilson by word of mouth, over a telephone line already set up and waiting, that the wireless flash has been received and that the Exposition is open. In

U.S. CARGO IN PRIZE COURT

Disposition of Food on Wilhelmina to Be Determined

Germany Begins Long Threatened Attacks in Sea War Zone

Germany has struck the first blow since her war zone decree went into effect. A French steamer was torpedoed in the English channel by a German submarine. She was able to reach port, although badly damaged.

CARGO TO PRIZE COURT.

LONDON, Feb. 19, 7:15 p. m.—The British government announced today that it had decided that the cargo of the American steamer Wilhelmina should be held for the decision of the prize court.

STOP TRAVEL TO CONTINENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 19.—All travel between England and the continent of Europe has been suspended by the British admiralty until further notice, according to advices received today at the State Department.

Some State Department officials interpreted the suspension of "travel" as referring to passengers until there could be some rearrangement of ship schedules with protection of convoys, but other officials thought it might temporarily include all commercial intercourse across the English Channel. The suspension, it is believed, will affect trans-Atlantic traffic considerably.

After the cabinet meeting, it was said, it was considered that the situation was not at all threatening, and that the administration had no fear that any American ship would be sunk.

The suggestion of Germany in the latest note to the United States that means be found for identifying and safeguarding American ships venturing into the war zone was understood to have been taken up. It was agreed, however, that the American government had no authority to order ships to adopt such measures as taken in New York and the Scandinavian countries, which includes the painting of the nationality of the ship in large letters on each side.

It was understood, however, that inquiries will be sent to maritime insurance companies as to what measures are contemplated for identifying neutral ships.

100 AMERICANS MAROONED.

LONDON, Feb. 19, 2:30 p. m.—About 100 Americans are marooned in Paris and unable to cross the English channel because of cancellation of sailings due to the German submarine blockade. They have communicated their plight to Walter Hines Page, American ambassador here, through the embassy in Paris, and Mr. Page has arranged with the American Line to hold the steamer Los Angeles until Sunday. The marooned Americans in the French capital

Millionaire Indicted for Big Land Fraud

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—Harry Chandler, assistant general manager of the Los Angeles Times and millionaire land owner, was indicted by the federal grand jury here today in connection with an alleged conspiracy, which had for its object a military occupation of the Mexican territory of Lower California.

Charles F. Legris, a wealthy contractor of 500 Fifth-street, arrived in Oakland last night after a hasty trip from Providence, R. I., effected a reconciliation with his wife, Marion Legris, and today the couple filed a dismissal of the divorce suit brought two weeks ago by Mrs. Legris, in which she charged her husband with cruelty.

At the same time Mrs. Legris dismissed suits she brought against her brother-in-law, Cyril Legris, and his wife, Sarah, to set aside deeds to their home property, which she alleged her husband had transferred to them to prevent her from obtaining possession. The property is valued at $3000.

At the time Mrs. Legris sued her husband for divorce he was on a business trip East, where he was served with the papers in the suit. He immediately took steps, it was alleged, to prevent her from collecting alimony in accordance with alleged threats that if she started a divorce she could expect nothing from him.

ROOSEVELT JOHNSON HELD

Clubman to Be Examined on Intemperance Charge

Roosevelt Johnson, manager of the Realty Union of San Francisco and a prominent figure in club and financial circles on both sides of the bay, was taken into custody this morning upon a warrant issued upon an affidavit of alleged intemperance sworn to by his sister, Miss Francis Johnson, of New York.

Johnson, who resides with his family at 306 Lee street, Oakland, is being detained at the Emergency hospital, pending a hearing late this afternoon before Superior Judge Wells. His sister, who recently came here from the East, sets forth in her affidavit that Johnson habitually drinks to excess.

Johnson is a member of different fraternal orders and is high standing in the business life of San Francisco through his connections with the Realty Union. He is middle-aged.

According to the affidavit, Johnson for the last year has been so addicted to the use of intoxicants that he has lost the power of self-control. It is alleged that on occasions when his wife accompanied him to the theater, or other places, he would frequently leave her suddenly in the street and disappear, not appearing at home until early hours of the morning. At other times, it is charged in the affidavit, he would telephone to his wife at early hours and ask her to find him and assist him home, as he could not find his way.

Francis Johnson, who swears to the affidavit, is a well-known society woman of New York. Mrs. Teresa Johnson, wife of the defendant, does not appear in the proceedings.

Hold Girl Swimmer as Undesirable Alien

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—Because she lived in Alameda with Carl Ihmarm as his wife, without the formal of a marriage ceremony, Tina Isokki, also known as Tina Ihmarm, a champion swimmer and athlete, is being held at Angel Island as an undesirable alien.

This morning she petitioned the federal court for a writ of habeas corpus to prevent the immigration authorities from deporting her. Together with her partner, Arthur Trout, Miss Isokki, who is a Swedish girl, visited the Antipodes and put on a swimming act at the vaudeville theaters there. The couple have numerous contracts for theatrical appearances here, and it is urged that the woman would probably not be allowed in New Zealand if she were returned there. In 1911 Miss Isokki successfully swam the Golden Gate and was heralded as a champion woman swimmer.

HUSBAND'S RETURN STOPS DIVORCE

Charles F. Legris, a wealthy contractor of 500 Fifth-street, arrived in Oakland last night after a hasty trip from Providence, R. I., effected a reconciliation with his wife, Marion Legris, and today the couple filed a dismissal of the divorce suit brought two weeks ago by Mrs. Legris, in which she charged her husband with cruelty.

At the same time Mrs. Legris dismissed suits she brought against her brother-in-law, Cyril Legris, and his wife, Sarah, to set aside deeds to their home property, which she alleged her husband had transferred to them to prevent her from obtaining possession. The property is valued at $3000.

At the time Mrs. Legris sued her husband for divorce he was on a business trip East, where he was served with the papers in the suit. He immediately took steps, it was alleged, to prevent her from collecting alimony in accordance with alleged threats that if she started a divorce she could expect nothing from him.

OFFICIAL WAR STATEMENTS

By Associated Press. PARIS, Feb. 19, 2:50 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of the fighting, which reads as follows: "There has been nothing of importance to communicate since the report of last night. The night of February 18 passed quietly. There were fairly spirited artillery exchanges in the valley of the Aisne and in the sector of Rheims. In the region of Perthes, all the positions conquered by us remain in our hands. "Between the Argonne and the Meuse, at the bridge of an aqueduct, we captured a bomb thrower. "In the Vosges we repulsed two infantry attacks at a point north of Wissembach. In the Bohemian region. Furthermore, we have organized and consolidated our positions as we made methodical progress both to the north and to the south of Sudel Farm."

MAKE RENEWED ATTACKS.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, Feb. 19, by wireless to Sayville.—The official statement given out today by the German general army headquarters says: "In the western theater of the war: On the road to Arras and Lille the French have been thrown out of the section of the German trench which was occupied by them on February 15. "In the Champagne districts renewed attacks made by strong French forces broke down completely under German fire. One hundred additional prisoners fell into German hands. Short sections of the German trenches which were taken by the French on February 15 were partly reconquered. "In the reported French attack on Boureuilles and Vauquois five officers and 479 uninjured men were captured. "To the east of Verdun, near Cambrai, the French, after a short-lived success under heavy losses, were repulsed. "The Vosges the Germans stormed height 600, to the south of Lusee, and took two machine guns. "In the eastern war arena: The Germans yesterday occupied Taurigen (in the Russian province of Kovno). "The engagement of the pursuing Germans with the retreating Russians to the northwest of Grodno and to the north of Aukhova are nearing their end. The battle to the northwest of Kolno still continues. "South of the River Lys the Germans drove the Russians out of several villages. "To the north of the Vistula, in Poland, minor engagements are taking place on both sides of the River Wkra to the east of Rasczyn. "From the region of the south of the Vistula, in Poland, there is nothing new to report."

BRITISH REPORT.

LONDON, Feb. 19, 12:20 p. m.—A report on the progress of the fighting on the continent was given out officially in London today. It is the second weekly communication on the operations of the British army in France promised by the authorities, and it reads as follows: "The enemy has displayed considerable activity during the last few days southeast of Trepas. The fighting on this part of the line has at times been severe. At one or two points the enemy succeeded in occupying some of our trenches, but they were driven out by counter attacks. One of the enemy's trenches was blown up and a number of prisoners were taken. Our troops delivered their counter attacks with great gallantry, in spite of the difficulties created by the water-logged condition of the ground around the trenches and the bad weather. "On the night of February 15-16 an attack was made on our line north of the Ypres canal, and on the following night a similar attack was made near Neuve Chapelle. Both were easily driven off with loss to the enemy. All the ground recently gained by us has been strengthened and held without difficulty. "South of the River Lys our guns dealt effectively with the enemy's artillery. The fire of which has increased somewhat of late."

have made arrangements to cross from Havre and the day's delay in the sailing of the New York will permit them to make their connections with the liner.

OFFICIAL TEXT NOT RECEIVED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The official text of Germany's reply to the United States note warning against damage to American ships in the naval war zone about the British Isles had not been received at the state department today. Officials know, however, that the reply had been delivered to the American ambassador and it will be its way to America. The official explained the delay by pointing out that the ambassador had been using the cable which comes from Rome and goes over a circuitous route with numerous relays. When the cabinet assembled for the usual Friday meeting, the unofficial report of the text of the German note published yesterday was discussed informally. The general interpretation of the Berlin note was that it was friendly and officials professed to be satisfied that no American ships would be destroyed by German war craft.

FRENCH STEAMER TORPEDOED.

DIEPPE, France, Feb. 19, via Paris, 4 a. m.—A German submarine torpedoed this morning without warning the French steamer Dinorah, from Havre for Dunkirk, at a point 16 miles off Dieppe. The Dinorah had not sunk, but was towed into Dieppe. No news was made of the loss of any of the crew.

A plot on the port side of the steamer below the water line was stove in by the torpedo. Nevertheless the Dinorah managed to keep afloat by hard pumping. A German submarine was taken into Dieppe by fishing boats and assistance for the Dinorah was promptly sent out. She was towed into port and her cargo was being discharged here. The presence of a German submarine off Cape Ailly was reported four days ago. The daily steam traffic service between Dieppe and England has been suspended.

STEAMER STRIKES MINE.

DOVER, Feb. 19, via London, 4:50 p. m.—The Norwegian tank steamer Belridge, on her way from Oslo to London, struck a mine off the coast of Dover on January 28, and Newport News February 5 for Amsterdam, struck a mine today off Dover. The vessel has been beached at Walmer. It was first reported that she was only slightly damaged by the explosion, but later it was learned that there had been fear of her going down. Her forepeak and forehold are waterlogged and her foredeck is awash. The pilot on board and a number of her crew have been landed. The Belridge struck the mine early this morning.

HOPE TO PROTECT NEUTRALS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Although Germany's reply to the American warning against attacks on its vessels in the new sea war zone gave great concern to administration officials, who feared for the safety of American shipping, it was hoped that an understanding might yet be reached for the protection of neutrals. No news had come that the mine and submarine campaign actually was in effect. Germany's disclaimer of all responsibility for what might happen to neutral ships venturing in the danger zone and its announced intention to lay mines in the British waters served to add to official anxiety. "The United States," the German note continued, "in command of attention here and officials were looking forward with unabated interest to the receipt today of the official text of Germany's reply. They already had unofficial information giving an outline of the German position. The arrival of the official text, however, officials declined to comment."

NO NEWS OF BLOCKADE.

BERLIN, via London, Feb. 19.—No immediate news from the submarine campaign against Great Britain is expected in naval circles here because several days must elapse before the submarine fleet can return to its base and report the results of operations. No news is expected from England regarding the destruction of ships.

DEFT STARVATION.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 19, via London, 11:33 a. m.—A dispatch from Berlin quotes the Vossische Zeitung on the latest German communication to the United States as follows: "The new German communications at sea are directed against two of the allies of Great Britain. One is the American traffic in arms and the other is starvation. We need no American arms; we shall make the struggle with starvation in the firm consciousness that we will pull through, even if not one single grain of wheat reaches us. Great Britain as a result of our blockade must experience severe damage."

The Lokal Anzeiger says

"February 13 was the beginning of a defensive fight of a people threatened with starvation, a people which must fight for its existence and which in this fight for its life must and will push aside all considerations for third parties. Consideration of others toward us already has been eliminated. The fight we entered upon February 13 must be fought with all reckless energy or not at all, and we Germans have resolved to fight without regard of the consequences."

SEE DESPAIR IN NOTE.

PARIS, Feb. 19, 5:45 a. m.—Despair plainly inspired Germany's reply to the United States' protest against the submarine blockade, in the opinion of writers in all sections of the French press, who fill columns with ironical comment. The tone of the document they consider moderate enough, but they declare the reasoning specious and its meaning plain and defiant. "The note," says the reply, "substantially ignores America's warning and the Berlin government practically refuses to give the assurance asked. "Georges Clemenceau expresses the belief that terror of famine has driven Germany to the worst extremities. He argues that Berlin would do wisely to ponder the military power, enormous industrial resources and indomitable courage of the citizens of the United States."

REPORT SHIPPING NORMAL.

ROTTERDAM, via London, Feb. 19, 2:45 p. m.—The stagnation in shipping at Rotterdam yesterday seems to have been due to the weather rather than to Germany's declaration of a war zone. The shipping today was quite normal. Of fourteen incoming vessels six were British and

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—If the strong intimation of the seven solemn justices of the California Supreme Court may be accepted before they deliver their law books, George McDonough, the Oakland attorney sentenced to the county jail refusing to answer grand jury questions by Superior Judge Ogden, may obtain his discharge under habeas corpus.

For nearly two hours this morning Chief Deputy District Attorney W. J. Burpee of Alameda county and Judge A. L. Frick of Oakland argued pro and con as to whether or not McDonough was right in refusing to disclose to the grand jury the contents of the $10,000 cash bond for James Higgins, one of the primary election fraud offenders, and who had retained him to defend Higgins, Charles L. Gale and Edward C. Wiles. The court took the matter under advisement. This was not done, however, until several of the justices had thrown out hints that in their opinion McDonough was within his rights when he regarded as a privileged communication between lawyer and client the matter of who had employed him and who had furnished bail for Higgins. Attorney Burpee argued that he believed McDonough should have revealed the facts requested and Judge Frick disagreed with him, citing authorities to support his contention that McDonough was within his rights when he refused to testify. The district court of appeal recently upheld the decision of Judge Ogden committing McDonough to jail, but his counsel was not satisfied and took the matter to the highest state court. McDonough has been at liberty on $100 cash bail.

SECRETARY LANE COMES FOR FAIR

Bringing Message to State, He Warns Against Exploitation.

who alone accompanied him on the journey from Washington, Lane said: "I am here bearing greetings from the East, but with my heart throbbing as one of the people of the West. THOUSANDS ON WAY. "The United States is thinking of the Exposition as it never thought before, and hundreds of thousands who until a year ago had no thought of coming to this city are now packing up and ready for the journey. As a result of this influx California will enjoy a large increase in population—a population that will be permanent and that will help develop the state to its highest resources. "These guests are being attracted by the beauty and wonderful resources of California, and they—those who return—will be the best advertisers of the blessings to be found here. "He must voice a word of warning—explanation, but not be exploited. They must be entertained with generous hospitality, for the manner in which they are treated will be reflected in their opinions of the state. Under no circumstances should the exposition be made a cause for the exploitation of visitors. Make them feel at home and they will learn to love California as we all love it. "Business is good and getting better every day, and I have no hesitancy in predicting a wonderful future for California and the West."

MEETS HIS KIN.

Secretary Lane said that he believed that during the summer most of the cabinet officers, the Senate and the House of Representatives would come to the position, and, of course, he said, President Wilson is coming. In Oakland Lane greeted members of his family, sons and daughters, including Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Lane, Miss Virginia Lane, George Lane and wife, Stuart Lane and family, and a general superintendent of national parks.

The Secretary said he had no time to discuss politics. He said he was deeply interested in the development of water power in the West, a bill to that effect having passed the House and is now pending before the Senate, and also in the development of coal, gas, phosphates and other mineral land of the West. This bill is also pending in the Senate.

All French Reserves Now on Active Basis

PARIS, Feb. 19, 2:37 p. m.—General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, issued today an order of the day, saying: "Now that the reserve regiments have required splendid fighting ability, they henceforth will be put on the same basis as the active army. The designation of 'reserve' has been suppressed."

NORWEGIAN STEAMER IS SUNK BY GERMAN MINE

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The Norwegian steamer Nordcap, according to the Exchange Telegraphs, Copenhagen correspondent, has struck a German mine in the Baltic sea and foundered. All her crew perished. The crews of one Danish and three Norwegian ships at Aarhus, Denmark, refused yesterday to sail for England and left their ships.

The bones, the muscles, and all the organs of the body depend for their strength and tone and healthy action on pure blood. If the blood is very impure the bones become diseased, the muscles become enfeebled, the step loses its elasticity, and there is inability to perform the usual amount of labor. SEEK SLAYERS OF JITNEY BUS DRIVER is one of the mysteries which the officers have set themselves to solve. It was not until daylight that the discovery was made that it had been wrenched from its fastenings. SUSPECT TAXICAB PAIR. Two men who took a gray taxicab two days ago and drove to the beach, refusing to pay their fare on the Great Highway and turning nervously on the driver, answered the descriptions of the pair and are being searched for by the police. Deputy Coroner Becker, who was on the scene shortly after the murder and who later visited Thumann's lodgings at the Hotel Ventura, 1033 Mission street, furnished the detectives this morning with a clew which may mean that a robbery was perpetrated. He stopped at the hotel to seal up Thumann's room, in accordance with the law, and told the night clerk of the finding of loose change in the dead man's pocket. "Where was his gold?" promptly inquired the clerk, Chris Gibson. On making further inquiry Becker learned that Thumann had the reputation of carrying considerable money with him, but the night clerk could not say whether Thumann had deposited his coin during the day. Detective Fred Kracke, after interviewing again this morning Miss Pearl Peterson of 265 Page street and Boone H. Inman of 1095 Mission street, who saw the murderers fleeing up Page street, compiled the following description, which was given to all patrolmen and sent to the police of Oakland and other nearby cities: Number one—21 to 25 years old, 5 feet 8, heavy set, dark suit, dark soft hat. Number two—20 to 25 years old, 5 feet 6, heavy set, dark suit and soft hat.

Spite Possible Murder of San Francisco Auto Operator.

WOMAN SEES SLAYERS.

The men were seen running from the jitney bus by Miss P. Peterson, 265 Page street, and Boone H. Inman, 1095 Mission street, who were standing on the front doorsteps of the Hotel Ventura at the time the murderers fled up Page street, completed the following description, which was given to all patrolmen and sent to the police of Oakland and other nearby cities: Number one—21 to 25 years old, 5 feet 8, heavy set, dark suit, dark soft hat. Number two—20 to 25 years old, 5 feet 6, heavy set, dark suit and soft hat.

INMAN FIRST THOUGHT THAT THE DRIVER HAD BEEN DRUGGED AND WAS STILL ALIVE.

Examination showed that Thumann had been struck across the head with a blackjack or similar implement and that he also had been shot through the abdomen. His forehead was scarred, and he had been dead for several minutes when Inman entered the car. The story told to the police by Miss Peterson was substantially as follows: "I am employed in a Powell-street cafe, and after attending the Majestic theater in the Mission last night, Mr. Inman, an employee of the theater, escorted me home. "We were standing chatting on the steps of my home, which is near the corner of Page and O'Farrell streets, when we noticed an automobile drive up Page street from the direction of Market and stop on the northeast corner of the street intersection. This was about 11:10 o'clock. "As we watched we saw two men get out of the car and saunter away up Page street in the direction of Laguna. They walked a few paces, then, when they entered the shadows, they broke into a run. At Laguna street they hesitated a moment, as if in doubt which direction to go, then started on a run north on Laguna street toward Oak.

"As they disappeared from our view," Mr. Inman remarked that the men acted suspiciously; that he believed something was wrong, and that if I would wait where I was he would investigate. He did so.

"Upon reaching the car Mr. Inman saw the body of a man crumpled up in the tonneau. He called to him and, receiving no response, became alarmed and ran down toward Market street for help. He met a special policeman and returned with him. The two found the body still warm, but evidently lifeless, and summoned the police."

"I saw quite plainly the two men who abandoned the machine. Both were young, were light suits and soft dark hats and were heavy set. One, I should judge, was about 5 feet 6 inches tall and the other was about two inches taller. SILVER LEFT IN POCKET.

Thumann's right trousers pocket had been emptied, but the police have some unknown occurrence interrupted his slavers before they had completed their work of robbery, for in other pockets, untouched, were later found the small coins and watch and chain.

The neighborhood where the automobile was abandoned with Thumann's body is thickly populated. The street corner is but one block from Market street, where many automobiles were continually passing.

How the murderers could have carried the body from the scene of the murder to the point where they left it in the car without being detected by motorists or pedestrians is not the least mysterious feature of a mysterious case. Chris Gibson, night clerk of the Hotel Ventura, positively identified the body of the murdered man as that of Harry Thumann, who had been, he said, a roomer at the hotel for several months. Gibson stated further that Thumann was in the habit of carrying fifteen or twenty dollars in small change at all times. The right hand trouser pocket of the murdered man contained only $5.65.

Thumann formerly was employed by Charles Kellus & Company.

ELECTRICAL MEN TO JOIN PARADE

Members in Convention Today
in Oakland Plan Dinner Dance Tonight.

Two general open meetings followed by a dinner dance in the ballroom of the Key Route Inn, was the program for today's delegates at the quarterly convention of the Electrical Workers and Contractors, which is being held at the Key Route Inn, and which has the distinction of being the first 1915 convention held in Oakland.

The meetings today were devoted entirely to the business of the association and several prominent members spoke on subjects of interest to the members. The sessions today will be followed by an informal table d'hôte dinner and an informal dance.

In the neighborhood of 150 members have already arrived and registered at the Key Route Inn and more are expected. These guests represent nearly every part of the state.

The committee in charge of the entertainment in Oakland has adopted as its motto "What is good for one is good for all" and it is expected that the evening will be a source of enjoyment to all who attend.

The entire party will proceed to San Francisco and join in the big parade with the San Francisco members, headed by W. S. Handbridge of San Francisco, who is secretary of the association.

President C. V. Snider of Sacramento is also here and announced that he, too, would be in the parade at the head of the remainder of the gathering.

TO EXHIBIT HOMES FOR WORKING MEN

State Housing Commission to Show Results of Labors to Oaklanders.

Fathered by the Commission of Immigration and Housing of California, Charles H. Cheney, the architect and housing expert, who has just made for the commission a trip of investigation through the East, will place in the council chambers of the City Hall, commencing next Tuesday, his exhibit, consisting of photographs of the best types of working men's houses to be found in the East, together with statistics of the rental return plan. The exhibit will remain in the city hall until Saturday, February 27, inclusive, and will include a lecture by Cheney, each afternoon at 3 o'clock, which will be free to the public.

The object aimed at is the elimination of all tenement districts, such as exist now in the East, and providing for the housing of the working classes, hand in hand with the city garden plan, now in vogue in England and parts of Canada. This new idea which is being worked out in the East provides for individual houses for each family, together with a rental arrangement which entitles the tenant to purchase his little home. Each house is provided with full sanitary requirements, has air, light, individuality, etc., such as is made impossible under the old law of tenements. Under the authority of the State Commission, Cheney has made a careful study of the idea and in his daily lectures will give his investigations and deductions to the public in each city where he exhibits, with the purpose of arousing interest among the taxpayers in order that legislation may be brought about governing this question which, in a few years with the large influx of new blood into the State, may prove a perplexing one. Wretched slums and tenements should never be permitted to gain a foothold in California, and the Commission of Immigration and Housing of California has been created for the express purpose of taking steps far enough in advance to circumvent even a beginning.

FIRST HOUSING MOVE.
The first concrete attempt to impress the necessity of action upon the public mind will be the announced housing exhibit under the direction of the Commission of Immigration and Housing. The exhibit is planned to particularly emphasize the real housing problem in California—the single family dwelling or shack in poorer parts of cities. A solution for these growing abuses is suggested in the form of State regulation.

Both in Europe and the Atlantic states it has been found that private initiative cannot be trusted to provide decent housing for the working classes. In order to avoid the evils of insanitation and congestion it is a demonstrated necessity that the government take a hand. "The whole question as to whether it is the duty of the government to provide for the bad conditions must be dismissed," says Cheney, "and careful restricted tenement house laws enacted." Nor does Cheney admit that this will be sufficient, but insists that the real solution of the problem must include constructive work in the building of habitable dwellings. Some one's business, he holds, it should be to plan ahead and encourage the private development of an ample supply of wholesome dwellings for the poorer classes. Only by the combination of proper statutes and adequate means of enforcement can success be hoped, is the prediction.

URGES BROAD REFORMS.
Dr. Frederick C. Howe, United States Commissioner of Immigration in New York, urges a broad, comprehensive program of reform. He shows that better housing can only come from mandatory city planning, the study of state and municipal credits, and the use of insurance revenue or other state funds for proper workingmen's housing projects. Massachusetts has already established a State Homestead Commission, and has made it imperative that all its cities and towns form planning boards to remedy three-century-old defects and improve future conditions. Similarly, Canada has designated the greater part of its forests, or the colonization of settlers, is the conservation of humans. Its Conservation Commission has employed recently the foremost housing and town planning expert of England, Thomas Adams, to educate the Dominion municipalities. It is with these principles that Cheney is re-enforcing the work of the Commission of Immigration and Housing of California, and it is with these examples that he hopes to quicken the interest of the public.

Following the Oakland exhibit, the promoters will take it to Los Angeles and later in the season will touch at seventeen of the principal cities of the State in a specially fitted up car. The exhibition has been showing in the temporary city hall in San Francisco during the past week.

DON'T DO THESE THINGS IF YOU SEE AUTO RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—"Don't." This is the warning of the directors of the Vanderbilt Cup race.

To protect the public the following official "Don'ts" were issued today:

Don't fall to yourself with seats.

Don't come late. Race starts at 10 a. m. sharp.

Don't forget to keep your seat; if not you interfere with the comfort of others.

Don't crowd the course. It endangers your safety.

Don't throw papers on the course. They are likely to fly in the face of a driver and momentarily cause him to lose control.

Don't argue with the guards. They are provided by the Exposition to secure your safety and the guard is obeying instructions.

Don't postpone your coming until the last minute. It avoids congestion and affords ample time to find your seat.

Don't overlook the fact you will see the biggest crowd within your memory and it will take time to get your bearings.

Don't abuse the guard because he informs you that you cannot remain in the place you have selected; there is a reason for it.

Don't abuse the management because you think things don't measure up to your standard; offer a remedy instead.

Don't run across the course to offer aid to a disabled car—flagmen have been instructed as to the proper procedure.

POLICE SERGEANTS NAMED.

The appointment of H. J. Thornbury and Henry Newman to the rank of sergeant of police was announced today by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. C. Turner. The appointments have been made on the recommendation of Chief Petersen. The two men held the rank of corporal. They passed highest in the recent civil service examination.

'FIRE' CRITIC DRAWS REJOINDER

Discussion of City Department Brings Forth Answer
in Kind.

EDITOR TRIBUNE.—In reply to Mr. Francis Purcell in yesterday's issue: The coyote barks at the moon, and in doing so, no doubt, affords himself no little personal satisfaction thereby.

Why he does so no one knows, apparently he dislikes its appearance. A more reasonable answer would probably be that he has no reason at all, but merely makes his presence known.

It is not on record that the moon ever replied to the howls of the coyote. This is in his case a purely accidental habit of the coyote or the regal passage of the "Queen of the Night," but might properly explain the reason for—more properly, lack of reason for—the wall of Mr. Francis Purcell of the Mail Ad. Co., who in his editorial no doubt, an authority on subjects pertaining to the utterance of fires. Having, as he claims in his remarks, visited all the leading cities of the country, including Milpitas.

Even I have visited that noble city of Milpitas and even, I might add, a few others in the east and other parts of the state as well, but would not attempt to argue with the gentleman on the subject, as he is beyond a doubt a competent crack or what is commonly known as a "dynamiter."

One does not wonder, as there are always such individuals, "highest authorities" in every community, who can give an official opinion on any subject. No doubt would offer suggestions to the "Master of all Creation" himself if he had the opportunity.

The wonder is that a paper which professes to be an organ of the people, having the welfare of the people and its city at heart, could lower itself to print such raving.

To return to the coyote and the moon: The moon goes on performing her duties as efficiently as ever in spite of the city wall, and I have no doubt the fire department will do the same as in the past and all good citizens will probably be satisfied to see the traveler travel on his way—even back to Milpitas.

125,000 Entitled to Vote on Fair Bonds

There are in round numbers 125,000 persons in Alameda county who will be entitled to vote on the $1,000,000 Exposition bond proposition on March 19, according to estimates compiled by County Clerk Gross today. It is estimated that a little less than 50 per cent of the votes will be cast. The election will cost the county approximately $15,000. There are 233 prisoners with four election officers to each.

SONOMA COUNTY PLANS ORIGINAL CELEBRATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—Possibly the most original of all of the plans for county participation in the exposition which has yet been brought forward, the announcement on the part of Sonoma county today for its celebration on Wednesday, March 10. A ballet, consisting of 150 of the most beautiful girls of the county, will take part in the festivities to be held in the California building. Twenty-five girls will represent six of the principal products of Sonoma. The first is easy; you will guess it on the first try—it's "chickens." The others are apples, dairy products, viticulture, flowers and spiculousness.

The last named, the result of the experiment of that wizard, Luther Burbank, will probably mean the attendance of the noted experimenter at the exposition. Burbank has half promised to be there on that day and Frank L. Sherman of Santa Rosa, who has the affair in charge, believes he will have no difficulty in persuading him to take a day off and visit the exposition, taking part in the festivities.

MINING EXHIBIT IS ELABORATE IN DETAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—Uncle Sam's exhibits in the Palace of Mines are in readiness for the thousands who will be present on opening day. The exhibit of the United States mint, where gold, silver and paper money is to be made is already in working order. E. E. Fisher, who has charge of the San Francisco mint for over 25 years, is already busy preparing metal for the souvenir coins to be made at the Palace of Mines. Each type of machine used in the manufacture of money is ready for February 20. Stamping machines, die casting machines, presses for melting copper, silver and gold, in fact every other machine needed is in place. A varied exhibit of coins, medals and paper money is to be shown. ## Got to Go Deep to Care Rheumatism

Liniments Help Locally, But the Disease is Way Down Inside.

To get at the source of rheumatic pain it requires the deep, searching force of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Rheumatism is primarily a blood disease that since it is in this vital fluid that rheumatic tendencies are carried, lodges in the joints and muscles, there to irritate the nerve and produce pain. And in order to drive out these pain-injecting poisons it requires S. S. S. to sink deep into the tiny glands imbedded in the innermost tissues. S. S. S. sweeps wherever the blood goes and never loses its medicinal influence. This explains why it overcomes the most chronic forms of rheumatism, why it dissolves those hard deposits that thicken the joints, for it acts as a solvent and assists the blood to provide in the tissues those natural elements for which the body-building process continually craves and must have.

If you have never used S. S. S. for rheumatism, get a bottle today of any druggist. Use it as directed and with some simple home helps you will soon get rid of the worst and most painful form of rheumatism. Write for medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 63 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for additional advice. Yours may be a case where a slight help from a specialist whose advice is not followed, is a tragedy that has been making life miserable for you. When you ask for S. S. ## DYNAMITE MAY BE CLEW TO BANDITS

Postoffice Inspectors Pursue
Trail of Gang Who Held Up Train.

With postoffice inspectors still seeking clues as to the bandits who, Wednesday night, held up the Owl Limited in the Mojave desert, and attempted to dynamite the mail car, evidences have been unearthed showing that the gang is a desperate one, and fears are felt that more attempts may follow the first, in which S. W. Gebhart of Oakland, chief mail clerk, and his three assistants, succeeded in saving the car.

Ten sticks of dynamite were planted in an effort to blow the car to pieces. One of the dynamite caps exploded, the mail clerks thinking at the time it was one of the shots fired through the door by the robbers. They declare that they were afraid to shoot in the dark for fear of hitting the streamer of the engine, whom the bandits brought with them.

"Those fellows meant business," Gebhart informed the postoffice detectives, producing his dynamite as proof. The fuse was attached with every art of the expert, the detectives say.

MAIL CLERKS QUESTIONED.

Most Old People Are Constipated

The wear of years impairs the action of the bowels. With advancing age people are disposed to restricted activity and exercise, which is responsible for the constipated condition of most old folks. The digestive organs are more sensitive to the demands made upon them and react more quickly.

A mild, effective remedy for constipation, and one that is especially suited to the needs of elderly people, women and children, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Get in Line Opening Day.

Tomorrow is opening day for the Panama-Pacific exposition, and will be celebrated in fitting manner by the city in which it is located, aided by sister cities around the bay and inland and communities in all parts of California. Oakland proposes to assist in making this occasion memorable, its principal business houses will close and thousands of the citizens will cross the ferries and participate.

The feature of the day will be the parade. It is planned to make this a monster demonstration. The governor, state and civic officials will head it, and everyone is invited to participate. It is to be essentially a citizens' parade, although many societies will participate. Appropriately has it been described in advance as "The Human Flood."

THE TRIBUNE urges every citizen of Oakland and Alameda county to visit San Francisco tomorrow and take part in this demonstration. To not only visit the fair, but take part in making the procession one of the largest in history. There are various reasons for so doing. The first is to make this parade a mighty one; one that will make visitors from outside stand in amazement at the loyalty of the citizenship of the Golden State to anything in which California is interested, the second to astonish every one, visitors and home folks alike, with the stupendous turn-out from this city and county. It is the best kind of advertising for the east bay communities and it affords everyone who participates an opportunity for a pleasant time.

This fair is the greatest in history and should be supported by every citizen of California and of the United States. It is likely to be the last event of its kind in a decade or more. It is a credit to the state at large and to the city housing it. It has cost millions to produce, and at that it will be worth the price for the educational advantages it will afford. It marks the opening of a new era in commercial life, the solving of grave problems of transportation, the opening of new markets the world over, the increase of the trade and commerce of the Pacific coast and the nation generally. It is the celebration of an epoch in prosperity's chronology, a prosperity in which Oakland and Alameda county will share to a large extent during the coming years and because of that people here should assist in making its opening as auspicious as possible.

Get in line tomorrow. Take a holiday and visit the fair. Join the marchers and show to the assembled thousands that this side of the bay appreciates this great display which means so much to the communities in its vicinity and to the state. Fall in with the rest and by your presence and participation not only cheer and encourage San Francisco, but advertise your own town and county as being enterprising, co-operative and imbued with the spirit that knows no lines marking political subdivisions when effort at boosting the entire state is required.

Get in line for the opening of the fair tomorrow.

'Civilized Warfare' Abandoned.

It is evident from the declarations of Great Britain and Germany that the rules of warfare hitherto obtaining with respect to the destruction of merchant vessels are to be abandoned and that the powers engaged propose to carry on the strife in the North sea and adjacent waters regardless of the provisions of international law.

Germany's avowed intention of destroying British vessels by the use of submarines and her warning to neutral nations that danger to their ships exists by reason of the fact that in some instances vessels might be sunk because of mistakes as to their identity, is followed by a note from Earl Grey of the British empire declaring that the threat of the kaiser's government will force England to reprisal.

It is impossible, says Earl Grey, in concluding his note, for one belligerent to depart from rules and precedents and for others to be bound by them.

This is nothing if not a direct and unequivocal assertion that if Germany attempts to carry her threats into effect, Great Britain will follow her example and will use her submarines, destroyers and other war craft in like manner.

The gravity of the situation to the United States and other neutral nations is apparent and it is small wonder that Washington is deeply concerned. Unless this country decides to withdraw its protection from its own ships of trade, which is highly improbable, it must furnish them convoys of warships, as the allies are already doing for their own vessels, and as the seas areas defined by the kaiser's government are extensively mined and a constant menace to shipping exists through the presence of his submarines, the possibility of the destruction of, not only merchant vessels, but warships, is such as to awaken intense anxieties. For the wanton destruction of either a merchant vessel, or a warship, would result in the creation of such a sentiment for active participation by this country in the strife across the sea that neither the president or the Congress could resist it, no matter which power committed the overt act. After all is said and done, the people declare war, not the Congress or the executive. McKinley did not want war with Spain and strenuously opposed it, but public sentiment forced it, following the destruction of the Maine.

It may be taken as a fact also that no matter what Germany or Great Britain may do in violating international law, the neutral nations will insist that commerce between them shall not be interrupted because a state of war exists, nor should they yield that point.

To check our commerce by any means means disaster to this country and its people. It means halting manufacturing and will affect the employment of labor. Such action would be far-reaching in its effect and no section of the country would be exempt. That which applies to us, also applies in greater or lesser degree to other neutrals.

We sincerely hope an amicable and satisfactory solution of the trouble can be arrived at, but candor compels the statement that at this writing the situation is grave beyond ordinary comprehension.

Bonds and Promises.

It is not necessary to rest our bond issue for the exposition upon any promise that it should be made.

It is true that when the location of the exposition hung in the balance, and was tilting against California, some of our public-spirited citizens decided the question by wiring to our people in Washington that this county would add a million to the exposition fund already subscribed and bonds already voted by the state and by San Francisco. That promise did its expected work. It decided the location for California. It was wise, public-spirited, and effective. To us belongs the credit of securing the location. Let us not lose that credit by refusing help to the mighty enterprise we secured.

Ignoring utterly the fact that a promise was made, and the personality of the gentlemen who made it, this county owes to its own reputation, to its fame as a California community, to its self-respect and future, to vote those bonds. The obligation to do so exists independent of any promise. Here is the greatest enterprise in all the history of man, that puts California under the world's eye. It will be the talk of both hemispheres. Every incident related to it will be in the minds and speech of men of all nations and races. Can we afford to have them saying, "But Oakland and Alameda county refused to give a cent to help this majestic enterprise succeed?"

States have repudiated their public debts, believing that there was profit in it. Men have violated contracts, believing that it paid, but in every case, the avoidance of an obligation has won only the contempt of mankind.

We have upon us an obligation created in the nature of the situation, that is so imposing that it gains no weight from anybody's promise. Let us redeem that obligation, vote the bonds and go to the show feeling like men and not like welters.

A COMMON ENEMY

SOME ODD FACTS

A Yorkshire, Eng., firm of wagon builders has just received an order for 5392 pairs of wheels and axles. The enormous amount of material involved may be gathered from the fact that if the wheels were placed end to end in one continuous line they would cover a distance of nearly nine and a half miles. The total weight of the material to be used is about 61,310 tons.

For every man killed in battle one ton of cannon balls is required. Although this is an old theory of the days of the flintlocks and muzzle-loaders, it is a known fact today. General Robins of the German army has proved it to be true by a careful study of statistics on the battle of Kiao-chow, which preceded the siege of Port Arthur during the Russo-Japanese war.

In the great library of the British museum is to be seen the largest book in the world. This is an atlas of beautifully engraved ancient Dutch maps, bound in leather and fastened with clasps of solid silver. It is nearly seven feet high, weighs 36 pounds, and was presented to King Charles II before leaving Holland in the year 1690.

RAT STATISTICS

It is estimated that rats destroy $150,000,000 worth of food in this country yearly.

Dr. Richard S. Harte, director of public health and charities of Philadelphia, figures that the rats cost Philadelphia $1,000,000 annually.

Dr. S. J. Crumrine, secretary of the Kansas state board of health, estimates that the number of rats is in excess of the human population and that each rat costs the state $2.

Besides costing the country millions of dollars every year by the destruction of food, rats spread the bubonic plague and other diseases and are a constant menace to health and sanitation.

It is estimated that an Indiana rat destroys 11 worth of food annually, and that the rate in the state about equal the population. Consequently they cost Indiana about $2,750,000 each year.

SOME NAME THIS

A new teacher found that a little negro girl was named Fertilizer Johnson.

"Are you sure that Fertilizer is your right name?" she asked.

"Yes, ma'am," replied the little girl.

"Well, tell your mother to come here," said the teacher.

The mother came the next day.

"Fertilizer is right," she said.

"You see, I named her after her father and mother both. Her father's name is Fertilizer and my name is Lisa, so we called her Fertilizer."—Boston Journal.

And She kept on Smoking

"Annie Chio, do you think you are a Christian?" asked a preacher of an old negro woman who was smoking a pipe.

"Yes, brudder, I 'pects I is," she replied.

"You tell me in the Bible."

"Yes, brudder."

"You know there is a passage in the scriptures that declares that nothing unclean shall inherit the kingdom of heaven?"

"Yes, brudder, I 'pects I is."

"Well, you smoke, and there is nothing so unclean as the breath of a smoker. So what do you say to that?"

"Well, when I go dere I 'pects to leave my breff behind me."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Optimistic and Otherwise

DEAF HEAR THROUGH EYES.

Announcement is made that an English physician at Lahore, India, has perfected an invention called the "phonoscope," the use of which has enabled the totally deaf to perceive sounds, such as music and speech, by means of the eye. The next step will doubtless be a method by which the blind can hear a picture.

SMALL FUND OF JINNEY DRIVER.

The hold-up of a jitney bus driver in San Diego shatters the claim that these industrious gasoline wagons are cutting seriously the revenues of traction concerns. This jitney man was stopped at half-past 6 in the evening and all the thieves got was 75 cents, his total possessions.

SUPERVISORS MUST FOOT BILLS.

Tuolumne county's supervisors asked the attorney-general for information, but the kind they received was not entirely satisfactory. Three questions were put to the lawyer for the commonwealth. First, if the supervisors could be allowed money for automobile or buggy hire while inspecting roads or bridges; second, if they could be allowed expenses while installing a county exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition; and third, if they could collect for money expended attending a meeting of the state highway commission, at which questions concerning the state highway in Tuolumne county were discussed. Negative answers were returned in all three instances. Inasmuch as the ruling affects all counties in California, it is fair to assume that there will be some lively side stepping on the part of supervisorial boards in the matter of expenses in the near future.

THRILLING TALE FROM PASADENA.

Those of us who have been wont to designate Pasadena as a place where thrills are few and exciting events rare and infrequent will have our impressions dissipated following a reading of the succeeding narrative from The Star:

W. S. Harrell, who conducts a grocery store at 1950 East Colorado street, is wondering if a hypnotic eye had anything to do with his loss of $9.90 at the hands of a short-change artist yesterday.

A stranger entered the store in the afternoon. His dark eyes gleamed balefully upon the proprietor. He asked for 10 cents' worth of tobacco, and presented a ten-dollar bill in payment. Again a baleful gleam brightened the depths of his smouldering windows of a guilty soul.

Mr. Harrell felt queer little chills marching up and down his spinal column. Immediately he became suspicious that the man before him was a short-changer. Believing in safety first, he took the bill over to the cash register, intending to deposit it there before giving change. As he walked away he felt those eyes balefully boring into the back of his head.

Mr. Harrell came back to the counter. Still the eyes gleamed. The merchant laid the change on the counter—a $5 gold piece and some silver. The stranger asked for a $5 bill in place of the gold. His brownish eyes were blazing like those of a Boston bear.

Mr. Harrell still held the $10 bill in his hand, having forgotten to put it in the cash register. He laid it down beside the $9.90 gold and silver. The stranger, his eyes still blazing, picked up the $19.90 and "beat it." Mr. Harrell, after a dazed moment, dashed to the front of the store. His customer had disappeared through an orchard behind the building.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The People's Party will hold a big mass meeting in ratification of its municipal ticket at Mills Tabernacle. John L. Davis and others will address the meeting.

At a meeting of the City Central Committee Dr. H. B. Mehrmann was inducted as councilman from the Second ward. E. M. Cannon has withdrawn from the contest. The doctor already holds the Democratic nomination.

After several nights and days of hard labor the terminal committee is ready to receive subscriptions to the stock of the Valley road. An address has been issued to the citizens of Oakland as an expression of the views of the committee and is submitted by the following Oakland terminal committee: F. Delger, George C. Farner, James Moffitt, Charles D. Pierce, E. A. Heron, Wm. J. Fitterer, W. W. Wither, Wm. R. Davis and C. A. Nordhansen, the last named as a representative from the Board of Trade.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hunt, former residents of Oakland, have returned from Nevada and will reside at 1283 Franklin street.

The Non-Partisans will hold a big ratification meeting at the Tabernacle, where a long list of speakers will address the meeting. Among them are Mayor Pardee, Candidates J. W. Nelson, J. F. Towle, W. G. Manuel, J. R. Cappel, W. A. Dow, R. W. Snow, Carr Howard, Ross Morgan, J. S. Burpee, Lorenzo D. Inskeep will act as chairman.

Mrs. Alice Bunnell has withdrawn as school director on the Populist ticket.

Henry Edward Preston and Miss Rosalie Engel of this city, were united in matrimony in the County Treasurer's office yesterday by a justice of the peace. Preston was in a hurry to get married, and requested the clerk to send for a justice, so that the ceremony could be performed without delay.

The Supreme Court Judge decided this afternoon to appoint E. M. Britt commissioner to succeed Jackson Temple.

NOT SURE ABOUT IT

"Did the little girl from next door have a good time?" inquired the fond mother.

"I'm not sure, mamma," said the wise child. "Her nurse said she could stay two hours, but gave her some lessons on how to behave when on a visit, and I read to her several chapters from that dear little book you gave me called 'Uncle John's Points for Polite People,' and she went home an hour earlier."

UNFIT FOR PUBLICATION

A schoolgirl was required to write an essay of 250 words about a motor car. She submitted the following:

"My uncle bought a motor car. He was riding in the country when it busted up a hill. I guess this is about fifty words. The other two hundred are what my uncle said when he was walking back to town, but they are not fit for publication."

TRACING SHOT OF CANNON

In this night cutting in Europe are the paths of the tens of thousands of shells and shrapnel marked by a train of fire.

That is a matter which has not been mentioned in the reports from either the western or eastern theater of war. If "tracers" are being used, and such probably is the case, the pyrotechnic display, supplemented by the red glare of the guns or ghastly blue light, if harmless cannon powder is being used, must be awesome.

The United States army has made valuable contribution to the methods of tracing the course of a projectile at night. Tests of a new illuminated shell, fired from the guns, were conducted from one of the defenses of New York harbor. It was reported that of fifty shells fired only a few went wide of the target, and by means of the illuminating feature the gunners were able to correct their aiming on the next shots. Lighted balloons and lighted floating targets representing ships and warships, respectively, were fired upon. The new shell is similar to other shells, except that when it is fired a gas flame is ignited in the rear, and this burns while the missile is flying through the air. This flame enables the observer to follow its flight.

In the American field artillery is a device for following shots at night called the Semple tracer. Its component parts are the brass body, a steel plug, a brass cup, steel washer, brass firing pin, lead-rubber washer, priming composition, illuminant composition, a vent hole in the plug, a lead disk and a brass nut. The cavity in the body is very nearly filled with the illuminant composition; the cup is filled with the priming composition, and all the other components have their part to play.

While the projectile is traveling through the bore of the gun the powder gases enter the vent hole, and a pocket beneath the plug becomes filled with gas under pressure. This pressure is sufficient to cause the plug to become forced out the muzzle of the gun to a distance beyond the muzzle of the gun to the firing pin, which, by friction, ignites the priming and illuminant composition. The illuminant burns intensely, causing a bright white flame to extend to the rear of the gun.—Washington Star

BACK TO THE FARM

Henry Silvers was tired of the farm, so were Mrs. Silvers and the three little Silvers.

"We are going to move to the city, where you can see shows and where Henry can get a salary and we can know just what money we are going to have to spend and get it regular," Mrs. Silvers told Mrs. Hutchison, a neighbor.

Mrs. Hutchison, who had just put a sink in her kitchen and therefore able to assume airs, was impressed. She envied her neighbor.

So Mr. Silvers decided to rent the farm next year, and sold off his stock and implements. The tidy little sum that they had after the debts had been paid made them feel quite independent.

The family then came to Kansas City, says the Star, took a cottage with a white tile bathroom and oak floors, and was happy. That is, all except the children, who missed Rover and the romps in the big yard.

That was last year.

Last week Mr. Silvers appeared in the office of Harry C. Allen, immigration inspector, who has charge of the local bureau of the national employment agency.

"I want a job on a farm," he said. Then he told of his farm experience. He said he was working nights for the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, but wanted a day job.

"I don't want any position—I want a job," he said.

"Go and see that man," Mr. Allen said, writing an address on a card and handing it to the applicant.

This morning Silvers came back.

"I want to thank you," he said. "I landed down there." Then he told how he was to get $35 a month, have a cow, chickens and a garden, and the use of a horse and rig to go to church.

"And I get a fine 5-room house," he concluded. "The old man built it for his son, but he was a fool like I was and moved to the city. I get the use of it."

And the little Silverses will get another Rover.

Table Syrup From Apples

A scientist connected with the United States Department of Agriculture has invented a process for making table syrup from apple juice. The invention, it is believed, will be of great benefit to fruit growers in that it will enable them to utilize inferior apples that otherwise would be wasted. One gallon of the syrup may be made from seven gallons of ordinary cider. It is said to have a fine flavor and its keeping qualities are excellent.—Fashinder.

sixty boys and girls were gathered in held her youthful audience entranced.

She was a charming Watteau figure in a quaint Dresden flowered gown draped

OAKLAND DINNER DANCE.
Several large parties, including that entertained by Mrs. S. P. Hall, enjoyed the Oakland dinner dance last evening engaged tables filled the dining room and ballroom, where the dancers on-stepped and "hesitated" until past midnight.

R. K. Howatt of Berkeley had several

Dr. Robertson Is Bibliophile He Saves Old Tomes With Reverend Care

It seems strange for an especially brilliant physician to be a maniac of any sort, but Dr. J. W.
Robertson is a bibliophile. At least, he collects books with something of the zest for first editions and old manuscript that marks the bibliomaniac.

Yesterday, he lent Poe a wonderful and rare collection that was recently removed to San Francisco from the Robertson home in Livermore, and is to be on exhibition at the Exposition—one of the rarest collections in America, that for some of its treasures rivals the famous Huntington library.

There is a Caxton, and every bibliomaniac knows what it means to possess a genuine Caxton. Also a Winkler de Worde in Latin, published by the first maker of books in Europe, save Caxton. But more interesting to ordinary readers is the paper of Edgar Allan Poe, the author who had asked if "The strange
case of Monsieur Vladimir," who was raised from the dead by electricity in one of Poe's tales, were true. Poe wrote that he himself didn't believe the story,
so the man would be justified in doubting it, or words to that effect.

There are letters of Dickens and Thackeray and first editions of their books. In the paper covers in which they first appeared in London. And a first edition of "The Vicar of Wakefield," with one of William Blake's weird poems in manuscript. A letter of Samuel Pepys, written to a lord of the English Admiralty, in the finely flourished script that recorded "Pepys' Diary," back in the 1600s. A letter of Edgar Allan Poe, the author
who had asked if "The strange
case of Monsieur Vladimir," who
was raised from the dead by electricity in one of Poe's tales,
were true. Poe wrote that he himself didn't believe the story,
so the man would be justified in
doubting it, or words to that effect.

Very beautiful are some of the illuminated manuscripts made before books were printed, and these with the rest of the Robertson collection are to add to the interest of the California building at the Fair.

ORATOR MATE TO FLEE.

By Associated Press.
PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 19.—Disorders occurred again last night at a meeting addressed by H. L. King, who earlier in the week, was attacked by auditors who objected to his attacks on the Catholic church. Bricks and stones hurled through the windows and various missiles thrown at him by persons in the audience finally put him to flight, after he had dodged about the platform for some time during his speech. King slipped out of the hall and was driven away in an automobile. A policeman was slightly injured and there was one arrest.

POIOTICS FOR RICH MEN.

By Associated Press.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 19.—
President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale in an address to the seniors on "Political" today said "No man has a right to enter politics under present conditions unless he has independent means." Dr. Hadley said he had made the statement previously and had been criticized for it, but he thought it worth while to emphasize it again.

MISS HOWARD TO FIGHT IN COURT

Resists Effort to Place Guardian Over Her Property.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—Miss Frances Howard appeared with her attorney in Judge George Buck's court at Redwood City yesterday morning to contest the guardianship petition filed by her mother, Mrs. W. H. Howard, through her attorney, who announced she would fight the case to the end.

Although there were present all the members of the family, no testimony was taken and the case was set for March 9.
It was agreed that it would not be tried by jury, as was at first demanded by Miss Howard.

Miss Howard took a keen interest in the arguments and frequently held whispered conferences with her attorneys.
She also talked with her brother, William H. Howard, and his wife. She left the courtroom with her younger brother, Kenneth, who is said to favor his mother's petition.

It is expected, when the case is called for hearing, many members of San Marco, Hurlingham and San Francisco smart sets will be called as witnesses.

Miss Howard was charged with insanity by Leon Levy, the attorney for Elward H. Howard, who lost his life as a result of the elevator accident in the California Pacific building early last January.

MME. CALVE CAUSE OF FISTIC INCIDENT.
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Longacre Square, where Broadway lights are brightest, was the scene of a battle royal yesterday between Max Hart and M. S.
Bentham, rival booking agents, over
Mme. Calve, the opera singer. Mme.
Calve is going into vaudeville at a reported salary of $1000 weekly. Five per cent of that amount goes to the booking agent and both Hart and Bentham claim to be entitled to it. Both were arrested and the question is still undecided.

SHE TROTS; HE CAN'T DIVORCE SUIT RESUIT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Inability to learn the fox trot and the one step was yesterday declared to be the cause of his marital woes by Harry Meinken, wealthy manufacturer, who is suing for divorce because he says his wife gave kisses to Andy Coakley, the noted baseball player, and pink stilk pajamas to Harry P.
Hewes, a wealthy young real estate man.
So many society women attended the trial today that extra chairs had to be brought in to accommodate them.

CALIFORNIANS BANQUET IN EXPOSITION'S HONOR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—In honor of the opening of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition next Saturday, the California State Association of Washington last night gave an elaborate banquet, attended by practically every Californian of prominence in Washington, besides many residents of other Western states. Addresses, songs and stereophon views of California, Western scenes and the exposition were features of the occasion.

In the absence of Secretary of the Interior in San Francisco as the representative of President Wilson, at the opening of the exposition, Lane having been originally chosen as toast-position.

Why the modern woman insists on Cottolene

Because Cottolene was in the van of the great movement for the improvement of food products and the bettering of household service—that is part of the reason.

Because Cottolene established its leadership as a cooking fat over a quarter of a century ago—that is part of the reason.

But, three times a day there appears on the table the best reason why the modern woman insists on

Cottolene

Cottolene cannot be excelled and never has been equaled for quality, purity, and for producing foods that are more wholesome, more digestible and more delicious.

There is an appetizing appeal in the knowledge that Cottolene is made of the highest grade of pure, fresh, ultra-refined cottonseed oil—so high a grade it is not listed on the market—combined with beef-stearine from clean, fresh, leaf beef suet.

Use Cottolene—one-third less than you would of any ordinary cooking fat—for all your shortening, frying and cake making.
Your grocer will deliver a pail of Cottolene at once. Arrange

Cohere Deny Troops' Evacuation of Mexican Capital.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—General Carranza's agency here today announced receipt of advices that 4500 troops were moving to join other Carranza troops in a general attack on Monterrey.

The Zapatistas have been routed from Zootitlan and Tehuacan, suburbs of Mexico City, suffering heavy losses," the agency announced. "It is absolutely false that Mexico City has been evacuated."

A railway communication between Mexico City and Vera Cruz has been interrupted and there has also been a break in the line to Tampico, the state department learned today in a message from Mexico City. General Silliman goes today to Vera Cruz to join General Carranza.

Reports from Piedras Negras indicate the Villa forces in possession of Monclova are repairing the railroad behind them before marching north.

Cure for Cancer Is Found in New York

The report will contain the name of the discoverer of the new serum, its composition, the details of the preliminary laboratory work and the individual medical histories of the patients so far treated in the hospital. The announcements forecast this report as one of the most important contributions emanating from the medical profession in this country.

Dr. James Douglas gave a large sum of money in addition to a very considerable amount of radium to be devoted to the treatment of cancer. The serum is used by injection. The cancerous growths break down, disintegrate and disappear, it is asserted.

Andrus and who complained that he believed certain jurors had violated their oaths, was hit—self put on the grill by Superior Judge Griffith today and the investigation subsequently dismissed.

WANTS WOODYARD SITE VOTED DOWN

Declaration of Intention to Circulate Referendum Petition Filed.

A statement declaring the intention to circulate a referendum petition to have the purchase of the municipal woodyard site at Eighth street near Harrison referred to a vote of the people at the general municipal election in May, was filed with the city clerk today by Edward C. Dalton, 345 Jackson street.

Great indignation was expressed by members of the city council at this action as it is generally agreed that there is but little chance of the purchase of the site voted down by the people and the submission of a referendum means a delay in remedying the pitiful condition at the present temporary woodyard.

It will require 2187 signatures to make it mandatory upon the council to place a referendum on the ballot. This is ten per cent of the votes cast at the last municipal general election as provided in the charter.

Dalton was one of the protesters against the location of the proposed woodyard in Eighth street. The protest was overruled by the city council when the protesters failed to submit any alternative site that was suitable for the purpose in the opinion of the council.

Dalton cites that the ordinance is in violation of section 45, subsection 7, of the charter; that the purchase proposed would unnecessarily increase the burden of taxation; that the site proposed, Eighth near Harrison, is in the heart of the city; that the establishment of the proposed woodyard would injure a legitimate business, mainly the wood and coal business.

JAIL RESULT OF WILD ESCAPADE

Police Chief Smashes Way Into Apartment, Capturing Youngsters.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—Smash—(Associated Press)—The police in the apartment of 15-year-old Everett Savage, son of a wealthy garage owner, Chief of Police Mosier of Redondo Beach early today captured Savage and two girls, 14 and 15 years old, members of wealthy and prominent families high in Redondo Beach business and social circles.

A second young man, also of a prominent family, escaped from the room just before Mosier hauled in his dragnet.

The arrest of Savage and the finding of the girls followed a frantic all-night search by the parents of the girls, their friends and the police. Early today, when the parents and friends, exhausted by their fruitless quest, had given up and declared the girls had been kidnapped, Chief Mosier secured the clue that led him to Savage's apartments.

The girls, weeping bitterly and embarrassed by discovery of their plight, were hurried to their homes. Their names were withheld.

HELD ON STATUTORY CHARGE.

While Savage was arraigned before Judge Everett J. Brown on statutory charge, and remained in care of the sheriff in default of $3000 bail, the police began search for the other young man.

The two girls attended a dance last night. When they failed to return home at midnight their parents began search. As the hours wore on and no tidings of the girls was received, the parents became frantic with fear.

Chief Mosier joined in the search. He began by questioning some of those who were at the dance. He secured a clue that led him to the apartments of young Savage, 425 South Carolina avenue, Redondo Beach.

Peering through a window in Savage's chamber, Mosier says, he saw Savage and the two girls. Instantly he smashed his way into the room.

GRIS RETURNED HOME.

Tearful and terrified, the girls pleaded to be allowed to go home. But Mosier sent for their parents and disclosed the facts. Savage was taken before Justice Brown. He refused to divulge the name of the other young man whom both he and the girls, according to the police, admitted shared the room until just before the police arrived.

The girls refused, according to the police, to tell what happened in the house.

While all Redondo Beach today is on edge with excitement following the sensational arrest and disclosure, search is going on for the mysterious second man in the case.

Savage is the son of Bert E. Savage, wealthy owner of the Ocean View garage in Redondo Beach. His father lives on North Pacific avenue.

One of the girls is said to be the daughter of a wealthy rancher and the other the step-daughter of a rich manufacturer.

100 LITIGANTS CONTEST SUIT TO SAVE HOMES

Ancient history of Oakland is being revived in Superior Judge Wells' court in the contest between George M. Davis and more than 100 defendants for title to sixteen acres of land adjacent to Lake Shore avenue which was seized three years ago when a five-strand barbed-wire fence was erected around it suddenly one Saturday afternoon.

Davis claims the land under alleged deeds given by the past owners, Vincencio and Domingo Peralta more than half a century ago.

John S. Klumke, 90 years of age, testified that part of Oakland when it was planted to wheat, and when it included what was known as Indian Gulch and Wildwood Canyon. It is now built up with beautiful homes, valued at more than $500,000, title to which is also involved. More than twenty-five attorneys are connected with the litigation.

Harrison Bartle testified as to the original map of the territory, which he identified as having printed fifty years ago through the peculiarities of the type used in his shop.

Action in the case so far has included the straightening out of technicalities involved preparatory to putting on evidence of possession by the plaintiffs.

Train Robbers Take Safe Itself Away

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The Jacksonville Express of the Seaboard Air Line railway was boarded last night at Alexandria, Va., by two robbers, who, after blinding and gagging the express messenger, rolled the safe of the train at Franconia, three miles beyond, and escaped.

Express company officials here said there was nothing in the safe.

The robbers went straight to the express car when they boarded the train. They forced the messengers into a corner and bound and gagged them. Failing to open the safe they waited until the train slowed down near Franconia and then pushed the safe out the door. The robbers leaped from the train at the next grade crossing.

The express messengers, still bound and gagged, were discovered when the train reached Richmond.

FOSTER HOME MAY CLOSE TO BOY

Decision in Mathews Adoption Case, However, Is Reserved.

There were comedy and tears in the last scene of the dramatic legal battle waged before Superior Judge Wells during several days past for the guardianship or adoption of 8-year-old Gerald Mathews, when the hearing ended last evening with the intimation of the court that the law would not permit the taking away of a child from its mother except under extraordinary circumstances of her incompetency.

After adjesting about in his chair, seated between his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rouse, during a day of tiresome and monotonous legal verbiage, to his boyish mind, the object of the controversy sat up and took notice when Judge Wells expressed from the bench that in his opinion adoption could not be permitted under the procedure and through the testimony at hand.

Realizing the purport of the words the small boy burst into tears. He wept in the arms of his foster mother and refused the advances of his natural mother, who attempted to bestow a kiss.

DECISION DEFERRED.

Attorney Rinehart, representing the Rouse family in their petition, had summed up the case and asked that the matter be referred to the probation officers, with a view of adoption of the child by the Rouses. Judge Wells ruled that adoption in this case probably could not maintain, but that it would be possible under the circumstances of the case to grant guardianship to the petitioners. This matter is also before the court, the records all having been included in the present case upon motion of Attorney Rinehart.

So it was that little Gerald Mathews, who had entered the court in a happy and confident frame of mind, left with a feeling that a crisis was impending.

Even then the boy's foster mother, Miss Eleanor Denney, and her brother, Jeremiah Denney, while not yet winners in their efforts to take the child away from the Rouses, left the courtroom somewhat more confident. ## RESPECT FOR THE DIGNITY OF THE COURT

Does not figure when a man meets an old friend whom he has not seen for eight years, according to the philosophy of Jerry Denney.

Denney was called to the stand by the defense. He was asked regarding his employment and home life by Attorney Nagle.

Taken in hand by Attorney Rinehart, he was asked if he ever drank intoxicating liquors. The witness replied that he did not.

"It is not a fact that you appeared in this courtroom yesterday so drunk that you had to be assisted out of the room by your brother?" asked Attorney Rinehart.

"I was sick," commenced the witness, when he was interrupted by Attorney Charles Shortridge, amidst suppressed laughter among the spectators.

"Isn't it a matter of fact, Jerry, that you were drunk, plain drunk?" "Well, if you put it that way, yes," he admitted.

"That's all," spoke up Attorney Rinehart.

"Well, let me explain how it happened," insisted Jerry. "It was just this way. At the noon recess I went up the street and met an old friend named Marriah. I wasn't drunk when I went, but I guess I was when I came back."

ABITER DICTA OPINION

Judge Wells said during the hearing that Gerald Mathews would undoubtedly be better off with the Rouse family than with his mother in the Denney home at 247 Webster street, San Francisco, where she said she intended to keep him and "give him a fine education."

The other repudiated a letter introduced by the petitioner in evidence and purported to have been given by her to Mrs. Rouse two years ago at the time she first sought to take Gerald away from them. The letter had been written by the manager of a children's home in San Francisco where the mother and offered to take the child.

Mrs. Rouse testified that Annie Mathews had told her on that occasion that she wanted to place the boy in a home and that he would be adopted within a short time by some wealthy people. This the mother also denied having said.

California Defeats Nevada; Leads in Varsity Race for Pennant

BERT LOWRY WINS HIS BASEBALL DAMAGE SUIT

VENICE TIGERS TO BE BIDDED TO HAWAII AGAIN

(Special Correspondence.)
HONOLULU, Feb. 11.—Herbert G. Lowry, who recently completed the Hawaiian Islands trip of the Venice Coast League team, and the All-American and All-National League teams, is in no way discouraged over the raw deal given him by the Athletic Club and some of the Venice Tigers, which prevented the team from leaving for the mainland with the idea of completing arrangements for another island invasion of big league teams.

Lowry lost money on the Venice Tigers swing to an 11th hour injunction having been taken out against him and the Venice Tigers, which prevented the team from leaving for the mainland with the idea of completing arrangements for another island invasion of big league teams.

Circuit Judge Stuart and damages assessed against Attorney E. C. Peters, Thomas Treadway and Henry Hapai for having illegally enjoined Lowry and the Venice Tigers from carrying out their contract. Later Lowry entered suit against the Athletic Club and some of the Venice Tigers, which prevented the team from leaving for the mainland with the idea of completing arrangements for another island invasion of big league teams.

GAMES TONIGHT:
Nevada vs. St. Ignatius at San Francisco.
St. Mary's vs. Stanford at Stanford.

Representatives of six universities and colleges met at the Hotel Oakland yesterday afternoon and speedily straightened out the controversy that had arisen in the intercollegiate basketball league because of the recently adopted rule regarding eligibility.

The meeting was harmonious and the misunderstanding was speedily cleared. Nevada introduced the following revised eligibility rule and St. Ignatius seconded it: "No player shall be allowed to compete in the intercollegiate basketball league who has during the current college semester or previous college semester been registered for the first time represented any team other than his college, or whose scholarship standing is not certified to by the faculty of his institution."

Under the terms of this ruling college men may play with whomsoever they desire during the college vacation only, but are ineligible for competition if they play for an outside team during the time their own college is open. The only exception is made in favor of a man registering in January.

The fact that he has already represented some club will not make him ineligible providing the faculty certifies him to be a bona fide student and he ceases to represent the club or outside team as soon as his college semester opens. St. Ignatius expressed their satisfaction with President House's explanation of Norton's case, and withdrew its protest.

The Santa Clara College basketball five triumphed over the Stanford University quintet last night on the Stanford court by a score of 42 to 23.

Although Stanford led by a score of 12 to 12 in the first half, the Saints rallied and by some excellent playing broke up the Stanford defense and romped home the victory. The lineup: Stanford—Forwards, Blodgett, Ward; center, Dutton; Swartzbeck; guards, Johnson, McLaughlin.

Santa Clara—Muholland, Scholz, forwards; Volgent, center; Curtin, Conte, guards; Ric Templeton, referee.

The championship honors in the P. A. A. tournament will be continued tonight when the Olympic Club five and the Oakland "A" five meet in the first game for the P. A. A. title. This game is figured to be particularly close, as both teams are easily the best at their weight in the state.

"Red" Kemp, the Olympic club star, and Johnnie Gilbert, their star center, are the mainstays of the team. Kemp is a regular "mud" as they say, at the track. No matter how deep the course is, the mud is never too deep for him.

That "A. S." plays the rear "round" is probably responsible for his reputation of being a steady player. He never has an off day, and can be depended upon for a prominent place in any tournament.

EXCITING GAME

Two Thousand See Opening Struggle in County High School League.

In a fast and interesting game played on the Piedmont pavilion court last night, the Berkeley high school quintet started the Alameda County Athletic League season by defeating Fremont, the final score being 21 to 15.

The game was the first of the 1915 season and was well played and fast throughout, the excellent playing of Jack Sykes the Berkeley captain and star center, together with the all-around playing of Jack Briggs, featuring the struggle.

Fremont put up a game, plucky fight and as for aggressiveness held their own with the Berkeley five. However, the decision was made by the fact that Berkeley passed was received in a graceful and careful manner.

Berkeley put up one of the most remarkable games that has yet been played by a prep school team. The game was a real battle, and every pass was received in a graceful and careful manner.

The guarding and passing of Nevins and Briggs, the Berkeley guards, although not as noticeable as was the work of the forwards, had a lot to do with placing Berkeley in the lead for most of the game. Both boys performed remarkably well, and hardly a misplay was executed by either side.

The pace was very fast at this stage of the game, and Fremont's showing was a credit to their team. Successive baskets by Sykes, Briggs, Montgomery and a foul scored by Sykes followed by a basket by Briggs, gave Berkeley a lead of 10 to 5.

Meanwhile Fremont had scored a foul and two other baskets on loose plays, and the shot was fired with Berkeley who led 12 to 10.

Roaring sections from four Alameda county high schools, Berkeley, Fremont, Oakland and Technical, witnessed the game and added to the excitement by some high-spirited rooting. The crowd numbered 2000.

Berkeley—Forwards, Briggs, Montgomery; center, Sykes; guards, Nevins, Briggs.

Fremont—Forwards, Woolsey, Hopkins; center, Burns; guards, Ward, Ward.

Timekeeper—W. R. Hume.

The Sporting Editor Says,

Says He,

About

Follows:

The two local boxing clubs which have successfully established the amateur in the good favor of the public should see to it that they themselves regulate the sport, thus obviating the necessity of any one else doing it for them. For instance, two rules could well be adopted here, just as Chief of Police White intends to see that they are adopted in San Francisco. Those who participate in the local bouts must be 13 years of age or over, and they must box under their right names.

If the local promoters do not insist that these rules be carried out, Chief Petersen or Captain of Police Bock will undoubtedly take action in the matter.

Eighteen years of age represents practical maturity among the boxers. Compelling boxers to register and fight under their own names will prevent crookedness, enable the public to keep track of the boys, and prevent any youngster from appearing without knowledge and consent of his parents. No responsible promoter can possibly object to these rules. They mean the safeguarding of the sport and the approval of the public.

JOE CONNOLLY of the champion Braves tells an interesting story. When the Braves were in their sport in July, a young semi-professional player, known as Jake, hung around the Braves' clubhouse and borrowed $50 from Connolly to bet on the Braves.

As soon as he got the $50 he began betting on every game that James Connolly pitched, and soon ran up $50 into a fat sum. When the Braves landed the American League pennant, he had a good stake.

It was something like 100 to 1 that the Braves would not win the four straight from San Francisco, and Jake grabbed all the big coin in sight. The series ended he had $25,000 on his credit in the bank.

Connolly received a check for $10,000 he did not know what to make of it, and he consulted Stallings. The manager told him that it was all right, and he did not think that the check was good, so he called up the bank and found that it was "O. K." The money was sent to Connolly and he had the $10,000.

Oakland 'Tech' Faces Its Old Rival at Piedmont This Afternoon

One of the most important games of the Alameda County Athletic League schedule will be played this afternoon at the Piedmont pavilion, when the Oakland Oakland Techs and the Oakland Techs basketball quintets oppose each other in the annual game.

Both schools are highly confident of victory. Technical being the more recent team that ever represented the school which is seeing a whole lot for stars like Charles Street, Ed Stiles, and George Helite once attended that school.

The above three represented the school when the Poly team won their only game from the Oakland team, and the team that defeated the Oakland High school five in that year by a score of 21 to 20 later won a state championship basketball quintet.

Coaches Frank Rock of Oakland and George Helite of "Tech" have practically decided the issue of the game. The game will be played at the Oakland Techs' home, and the game will be a close one.

Challenges Issued to ### "Battler"

Sporting Editor TRIBUNE. Dear Sir: I notice that Matchmaker Merritt of the Oakland Wheelmen's club is boasting a lot about this guy Battling Johnson who has won five fights on knockouts. He better quit boasting, for the first time Johnson runs into a live one, he'll find out that he's not a champion. I don't want to knock anyone, but I can't whip Johnson in one round, you can give me a medal for charity, and I'll sweeten the pot with five bucks.

Merritt knows me, and he knows I can trim this guy. That's why he won't give me the match. I'll bring all Watts tract down with me. If they'll only match me with this guy Johnson, please help me.

Yours truly,
"FIGHTING JOE" MURRAY.

PETE TAVAS IS ### GIVEN ANOTHER

CHANCE AT GLORY

(By THE TIMEKEEPER.)
Bearing in mind the old adage of "Strike while the iron's hot," the West Oakland club will fire another short-bout round at the local fans next Wednesday evening. Promoter Tommy Simpson bundled his "copy" in the hands of the printer today, and disclosed his menu.

That he has purchased a hard-hitting Greek lightweight, who is already excited over his string of victories and who has purposed seeking a fight with Travis, and ever threatens to sport a wrist watch.

The lad who will undertake to topple the favorite of the fans is Johnny Mallett, Hebrew boxer of the Abe Attell type, who is vouched for by "Bubbles" Robinson, a boy who ought to be a fighter when he grows up. These lads will feature the main event.

The semi-windup will be provided by Jimmy Dundee, whom the fans will probably recall as the clever little lad who used to tickle the fancy of the ringsters when he appeared under the name of "Little Dundee." Jimmy has been boxing in the amateur shows across the bay, and has been cleaning up with great regularity. He meets a good boy in Eddie Byrne of East Oakland, a lad who has won his last three bouts.

Abe Henderson, who won a sensational bout with Nedman at the Pleasanton pavilion, is matched with Ike Robinson, who took second prize in the last amateur tournament at Portland, Oregon.

Jack Johnson, the champion from entertainment row, will try to get away with George Hoffman, a member of the "Bugs" Union.

Other bouts will be Harry Thompson, of St. Joseph's Athletic club, vs. Jack Pledge; Ed Helite vs. Dutra; George Miller vs. Helite; Helite vs. Johnnie Silver; Eddie Murray vs. Battling Dundee; Tony Lido vs. Harry Sparks.

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 19.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight champion who is to fight Jess Willard at Tampico on March 6, landed safely at Tampico today, according to messages he dispatched to the promoters of the fight here.

He is expected to arrive at Juarez on Saturday, and then to take the Mexican railway, which runs directly west to San Luis Potosi and thence northward to Tampico.

ILLINOIS TEAM

GOLF WILL GETCHA IF YOU DON'T WATCH OUT!

GAME EXERCISES MYSTERIOUS LURE ON MANY

Golf will getcha, if you don't watch out. Spoof the game, if you wish; call it senseless, childish and a lot of other things along the same line. But don't tempt fate by clutching a club and taking even one swipe at the ball. If you do, you are lost forever to the antidoting clan.

There is a game whose devotees are made up largely of men who used to think that all the silly games golf was the silliest. They feared at the golfers, they ridiculed the game. And then one day they got a club in their hands, took a swing at the ball—and now they are going fiers.

Golf is unlike any other athletic game. The golfing fever attacks you the very second that you take your first swing. Other games, like tennis, baseball, bowling, hockey, football, must be played often before it becomes something of a mania. But golf is different.

Why are golf enthusiasts with the rapidity and tenacity of a drug? That's a question that no man ever has been able to answer satisfactorily. But it is a question that you can't ignore.

THE QUESTION BOX

To the Sporting Editor.—Was Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight champion, ever knocked out in San Francisco?

Another question.—What is the record of the Chicago basketball team at the Exposition at San Francisco?

Answer.—The Chicago team has won all its games at the Exposition at San Francisco.

Five Dollars to You or anyone who sends the first correct answer.

Why We Want to Know

We are putting out a small neat "Pocket Savings Bank" that takes quarters, dimes and nickels. Many of the holders have adopted the plan of putting all the "Buffalo Nickels" they get into this bank and some have therefore christened it the "Jitney Bank." Since then scores of times we have been asked the meaning of this much used word of today. We have inquired and found numerous different explanations; so decided to give a prize for the first correct reply.

The editors of the local papers will decide as to the correct answer.

Just write a letter with your explanation and bring or send it in. Each letter will be "time stamped" to show time of arrival. Any one, anywhere is eligible.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Sals if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach, sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

WASHINGTON SALOONMEN INTRODUCE MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—In both houses of the Washington Legislature measures were introduced yesterday calling for the holding of a special election on November 2 of this year on bills which would legalize the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor and provide an excise tax, part of the money to be raised going to the state and the balance to be used to go to a fund to enforce the general liquor laws and the remainder into the highway fund.

The bills in question are the result of the efforts of the liquor men to obtain legislation of some kind before the prohibition law is repealed. The general election last fall gave into operation in 1916. The house and senate have already passed a resolution declaring against the handling of the liquor question at a special election.

CANAL TOLLS FOR SIX MONTHS, $2,000,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Up to February 2, after the Panama canal had been in operation just thirteen days short of six months, the total amount of tolls received passed the $2,000,000 mark.

Interference by the European war with the expected flow of business through the canal was indicated by the fact that during January 88 vessels passed through, being one less than during December. It happened, however, that owing to the large tonnage of the ships, the quantity of cargo carried exceeded all previous months, the nearest being 155 tons in November.

The total amount of cargo transported in January was 448,957 tons, making a total of 2,192,576 tons passing through the canal from the date of its opening up to February 1. The trade between South America and the United States and Europe was the largest item, amounting to 112,695 tons, and the next was westward bound coastwise traffic, amounting to 103,609 tons.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 19.—Summer and Albert Lakes, in Lake county, will be the scene immediately of the inauguration of a $7,000,000 development project, as the result of the ratification by the legislature of a lease of these bodies of water to Jason C. The pipe line will be 27 miles long, and will cost $2,000,000. At the pipe line's outlet it is proposed to build a plant for converting the minerals from the water of the lakes into commercial salts and fertilizer.

UNION APPROVES SUNDAY HAIRCUT

Oakland Barber Shops to Open Sundays During the Exposition.

No more the waiting man shall rave.
Against the slowness of the shave.
Before he gets his turn:
Ton-orial artists now shall ply
Their Art on Sundays, and that's why
They now have time to shave."

No more shall the angry Oaklander, belatedly regarding the long Saturday line of unshaven men, swear at the slowness of barbers, the hard luck of the man who has whiskers—and either wait half an hour or buy himself a safety razor. The Saturday night rush is a thing of the dim and distant past, along with the half-strooped razors of yore. The silent and unobtrusive of Sunday night will also be a thing of the past—never to be mentioned in conversation.

The Sunday shave and hair cut are to be Oakland institutions during the Exposition. Conventions must move people—and that means more whiskers. Whiskers means gold to the barber—and so they've decided to open up Sundays to reap their hirsute harvest.

All union shops will open at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning, beginning next Sunday, and remain open until noon. This was decided after a spirited discussion at the meeting of the barbers' union, which resulted finally in an overwhelming vote for Sunday opening. The matter was brought before the journeymen at the request of the employers, who urged that the extra trade during the Exposition should not be overlooked.

F. A. TAYLOR, ALLEGED SPY, AGAIN DEPORTED

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—Frederick A. Taylor, who has been held at the immigration station since he was deported from England on an alien spy four months ago, and who claims to be an American citizen, born in San Francisco, may become another "man without a country."

He was deported today for England on board the steamer Pretorian, bound for Glasgow, and will be guarded by the British army and navy in October. Taylor furthered his English authorities at the British Office of the Pretorian expressed doubt whether Taylor would be permitted to land in England and feared they might be forced to keep him on board.

Plans of English fortifications were found in Taylor's papers, and he was charged with being a spy, but explained his possession of the plans by saying that they were given him by an unknown man who rushed up to him at the race track and asked him to hold them for a few minutes. His assertion that he was a spy was not believed, and his deportation to this country.

KILLED IN ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE FROM GALLIES

By Associated Press.

BISMARCK, N. D., Feb. 19.—The North Dakota senate, by a vote of 26 to 22, recalled from the house last night the woman suffrage bill recently passed by this upper body. The bill passed both houses two years ago, and if favorably acted on at this session would be submitted to the people two years hence.

Alleged Safe-crackers Nonplus Solano Officials by Denying Crime.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—In an effort to obtain additional evidence against Fred Peterson, alias Albert Nelson, and William Day, alias Richard Dillon, held in the Solano county jail for the murder in August 14 last of Marshall Emigh of the Vista, brother of Police Inspector Emigh of the Oakland police department, Chief of Police W. T. Stanford of Vallejo requested the co-operation of the detective department here this morning.

Both prisoners are ex-convicts from Solano penitentiary and are alleged to be safe blowers and to have committed several crimes in Contra Costa and Solano counties, prior to slaying Emigh at the Vista. They have stoutly maintained their innocence, declaring that they were not in the neighborhood when the crime was committed.

Peterson, who was caught in Portland, Ore., has been particularly strenuous in his denial of complicity and the police are anxious to bolster up their case against the prisoners.

AEROPLANES NECESSARY, GARRISON POINTS OUT

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Aeroplane, the European war has demonstrated, are absolutely essential for scouting. Secretary Garrison says in a statement made public yesterday by the house appropriations committee. He points out, however, that armored air machines have not played any valuable part in the war, but that automobiles are important in war transportation. The Secretary reported on the progress of modernization of the sea coast defenses of the country and said:

"We should place, as soon as we can, 60 guns where we do not now feel we have guns of sufficient range and power, but there is no occasion to rush into that. We should place 10 or 15-inch guns all over the continent."

THE EFFECTS OF OPIATES.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
